CARLISLE INDIANS 9, GEORGE WASHINGTON 8

In this game our team showed that it has plenty of baseball ability. The shift in positions has made a wonderful improvement in the team work and general handling of the ball, the infield especially being greatly strengthened. Price has been brought in from centre and put at short, Campbell shifted from second to Captain Bradley going to first. King, who has shown up so well in the recent try-out, was put on third and Walsh in centre. Stevenson was retained in right, Weber behind the bat and Hutchinson did the twirling. Perhaps the best work of the game was done by Campbell, who figured in three double plays, caught out several, accepting eleven out of twelve chances and found the ball for three hits. Price also was decidedly in evidence in his new position, and gave confidence to his part of the diamond. Weber played his usual reliable, steady game, but was handicapped by a bad arm. He and Price got three hits each.

While the Indians made several gross errors and stupid plays at times they played brilliant ball, being especially handy with the bat. Although the game seemed lost to them in the third inning, yet they never quit playing, but doggedly stuck to it and finally won out. Below is the tabulated result:

LORANDO WINS IN VIRGINIA.

At the track and field meet held by the University of Virginia at Charlottesville last Saturday, Geo. Washington and Washington and Lee tied for second place, with 15 points, and Virginia was first with 98½ points. The colleges represented were North Carolina, St. John's, Washington and Lee, Geo. Washington, Virginia, and a number of preparatory schools.

A. Randolph of Virginia made a high jump of 5 feet 9 inches. Anderson of Washington and Lee made a record in the pole vault, making a vault of 10 feet, 8¼ inches.

Lorando's running was the best of the meet, entering in the three longest and most trying races. He won two and came second in the third, his time being very fast. Gill was third in the mile. Below is given a partial summary of the meet:

880 yards—Won by Lorando, George Washington; second, McCluer, Washington and Lee; third, Marshall, Virginia; fourth, Carter, Virginia. Time, 2:05.

One-mile run—Won by Bosher, Virginia; second, Lorando; George Washington; third, Gill, George Washington; fourth, Burke, Virginia. Time, 4:45 3-5.

Two-mile run—Won by Lorando, George Washington; second, Harwood, Virginia; third, Offutt, Washington and Lee; fourth, Rumell, Virginia. Time, 10:51 2-5.

High jump—Won by Archie Randolph, Virginia; second, Taylor, Virginia; third, Russell, Virginia; fourth, Anderson, Washington and Lee. Height, 5 feet 9 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Graham, Virginia; second, Waples, Virginia; third, Rowell, Virginia; fourth, Bartlett, Virginia. Distance, 20 feet 11 1-2 inches.

Pole vault—Won by Anderson, Washington and Lee (height 10 feet 8 1-4 inches); second, Taylor, Virginia; third, Russell, Virginia.

Shot-put—Won by Pittman, North Carolina; second, Fordham,

IN THE INTEREST OF BASEBALL.

On last Thursday night, as the result of plans started by Mechlin & Delos Smith, representatives of the fraternities and various organizations of the University, met to devise means to meet the deficiency in the baseball treasury, caused by the poor attendance at the games. Several schemes were proposed and discussed, and finally it was decided to appoint a committee to make arrangements for a collection from every class in the University. It was thought that after an appeal to the college pride and spirit of the students had been made they would come to the relief of the team and subscribe all that was necessary.

The committee was composed of McEnery, Brogaw and Reed. Those present were E. C. Wilson, E. L. Reed, M. W. Patterson, M. F. Henkle, R. Brogaw, D. H. Smith, Brondenberg, Marshall Magruder, C. W. Whitmore, R. I. Moore, "Pat" Albert, Prof. Veditz and Mechlin. It is the intention of this group to take steps toward the reorganization of the Athletic Association, to put it on a firm basis, and by having a membership fee provide an athletic fund.

ATTENTION! ALL STUDENTS.

At the next meeting of the Association of Class Presidents, to be held in the near future, there will be elected an Editor-in-Chief and a Business Manager of The Mall, for the year '06-'07. Candidates for these offices are requested to send their applications to me in writing at the earliest possible opportunity. All applications should be accompanied by such data or information as may assist the Association in passing upon the eligibility of each candidate.

FRESHMAN MEDICAL DANCE.

The dance given by the Freshman Medical Class at the Arlington last week was a greater success than had been expected. It was given under the management of the Board of Lady Managers, for the benefit of the George Washington Hospital, and was conducted as successfully as these noble women have carried through every other unselfish undertaking for this good cause.

It was gratifying that so many showed their interest in the purpose of the dance by attending. The entertainment furnished was thoroughly enjoyable and worthy of those who provided it.

The first number on the program was a song by the Girls' Glee Club, which was so pleasingly rendered that an encore had to be given. Mr. Sorensen, president of the class, made some appropriate remarks, stating the purpose of the dance. The solos by Miss Edna Sheehy and Mrs. J. Clarence Price were particularly enjoyable.

The chief feature of the evening was the exhibition of fencing by Mr. Scott D. Breckinridge of Georgetown, champion of the District of Columbia, and Mr. Michelsoni of the Freshman Class, champion of Uruguay, South America. Their work was very thrilling and the clash of the foils made one shudder to think what would be were they sharp. The skill displayed by them was remarkable and proved that each held his title by right of merit. Prof. Derienlot and Mr. Breckinridge gave an exhibition of the skillful use of the foils, Mr. S. G. Hopkins acting as umpire.

KAPPA ALPHA DANCE.

The Kappa Alpha fraternity, which has established a reputation of giving the most enjoyable and appropriate receptions, gave another of its delightful dances on Monday evening of last week. The Fraternity House is most admirably suited for such purposes, having three large rooms that can be thrown into one, and the hardwood floors are kept well polished. That prime requisite to such occasions, a band that gives good music, had been provided. At 12 o'clock refreshments in several courses were served.

A number of visitors enjoyed the hospitality of this house, among them being Miss McLauren, daughter of Senator McLauren, of Mississippi; Misses Correll, Mixon, and Robertson, now attending Chevy Chase College; Misses Young, Smith, Satter, von Windbagger, Holliday, Thomas, and Turner.

NEEDHAM DEBATING SOCIETY.

At the regular meeting last Friday, the preliminaries for the Needham-Enosinian Debate were held. After the several contestants had spoken the judges unanimously decided that Messrs. Kennedy, Patterson, and Thomson should compose the team, and that Mr. Baker should be alternate. The excellent work of these gentlemen in the society during the past year would indicate that they will give our college contemporaries a hard fight.

Mr. E. J. Lundy was elected as the representative of our Society to cooperate with the representative of the Columbian in the endeavor to have the faculty grant some credit in computing scholarship records to those participating actively in the debating work of the University.

With great pleasure we learned that the Columbian Society had elected to uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the immigration of laboring class into the United States should be further restricted by law," in the next debate we will hold with that society.

The preliminaries for this debate will be held on Friday, April 27.

Mrs. John B. Stetson has placed the trustees of Stetson University of Deland, Florida, in a rather unenviable position. She offers to give the university $100,000 provided all the trustees resign. The question at Stetson now is: Are the present trustees worth more than $100,000 to the university?

EGG ROLLING CONTEST.

On Easter Monday about one hundred and fifty little Junior and Senior Medics were given an egg-rolling contest by their affectionate nurse, Afa King.

Long before the exercises were to begin the little fellows, nervous and excited in anticipation of the contest, began to arrive, with faces red and shining from a too evident recent scrubbing, and in corduroy kilt skirts and sailor blouses. Each one had a little basket full of many colored eggs and a small rabbit. (Some had "little ponies.")

The nurse cautioned them before the contest that each must play with his own eggs and not interfere in any way with the other children.

Most of the little fellows rolled their eggs in a very creditable manner, while a few of them were unable to get the ovoids to roll down the anterior inclined planes of Lecture Halls Nos. 1 and 2, and were very tearful on account of having to crush their pretty playthings. Those who had been successful got the unfortunate ones to dry their tears by telling them that the good nurse would give them another contest next Easter, when they would make a better showing.

This is the last time the children will meet their kind nurse for some time, as he is going up into Vermont to take charge of some children and instruct them in the art of egg rolling.

The little tots were reluctant to let him go and without a single exception shed tears at his departure.

COLUMBIA ATHLETIC CLUB WINS EASILY.

On last Saturday the C. A. C. team drove the ball all over the field and put many runners across the plate. A change of pitchers did no good, the visitors seeming to find no difficulty in hitting either. The C. A. C. team has as good men on it as any team that has played here. They are hard hitters and good fielders, and understand the game. Smith and Titus were on the team for the first time and found it difficult to handle the ball.

DAVIS PRIZE SPEAKING.

WON BY MISS BARKER.

On Wednesday of last week was held the annual contest for the Davis Prize in speaking, open to students of the college.

The topics and speakers were "The Influence of the Political and Religious Life of Greece Upon Greek Art," Miss Charlotte Reinke; "The Ideal American vs. the Modern Immigrant," Adon Daniel Phillips; "Gloria Mundi," Miss Clara Velma Barker; "Whither," Kark Morgan Block; "The Word That Moved the World," Clarence Willard Whitmore, and "Our Country on the Sea," Margaret Agnes McMahon.

The committee on award consisted of Percy M. Hughes, Gilbert H. Grosvenor and George F. Bowerman.

The Davis Prizes, founded by Isaac Davis, LL. D., of Massachusetts, consists of three gold medals, awarded annually to the successful competitors in a public contest. Members of the senior classes only are eligible for the prizes.

Miss Barker was unanimously awarded the first prize, Mr. Phillips second and Miss Reinke third.

Music was rendered by the Girls' Glee Club.

INTER-STATE PRINTING AND ENGRAVING CO. 14 WASHINGTON, D. C.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1906.

In the next issue will be announced the plan of the future conduct of THE HATCHET, how succeeding editors and managers will be elected. It is the intention to place the control of the paper, both financially and editorially, in the hands of the students, as it is only thus that the best results can be secured.

We believe that we can with just pride take a short review of our unbroken line of successful inter-collegiate debate, a record second to none in the country. In succession, without the intervention of a single defeat, we have defeated Washington and Lee, Georgetown, Virginia, and the University of Cincinnati, three of the decisions being unanimous. This is a record that any university could well be proud of. But going back beyond this our pride will be yet increased, and justly, for after a single defeat we find a line of victories over Virginia and Georgetown.

This is all the more striking when it is remembered that our students are at steady employment for seven and a half hours every day, besides the lectures, and are not excused from lectures while preparing for debates, and are given no credit on their course for such work.

Too much praise cannot be given to Professor Veditz, since whose coming as our instructor in debating the University has not lost a single debate. His ability in this respect is nothing less than remarkable, and every debater that has had the advantage of his coaching has received many returns for the time spent.

If a student wishes to learn the art of debating, it can be done in no better way than by winning a place on a team and thus placing himself under Professor Veditz's instruction. Besides being a genius at this art, he is an enthusiastic supporter of athletics, and has already won a place among the students by his hearty sympathy and advice in matters of football and baseball. It is the wish of all that he remain permanently with us.

Most commendable was the movement put on foot by a few interested students for the purpose of raising money to meet the deficiency in the treasury of the baseball management. Unless the students respond to the call put forth by these students the season cannot be continued. The only source of revenue for the games is the gate receipts, which have been so miserably small in every game as to leave a large deficiency after the guarantee was paid. Manager McEnery arranged the best games for the three holidays, expecting the students would accept this opportunity when there would be no lectures, to see their own team play, but he, the team and those interested in athletics in the University were grievously disappointed to see that the attendance at these games was no better than at the rest of the games. The consequence was that these games which were expected to pay off the other losses, left a greater deficiency than ever.

To enable the team to complete its schedule and prevent the University from cancelling its schedule, a thing that gives a university a reputation as a "quitter," the students must respond to this appeal; they must show that they care enough for her success on the baseball field to do something toward that end. We cannot believe that the students are indifferent to the fortune of their baseball team, but that the stress of work keeps them from attending the games. If they cannot encourage the team by being present to urge it on to victory, which is more to be desired than money, they can do the next best thing and come to its financial relief.

See your class president and show that you do care for the reputation of your athletic teams.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.

To prevent troublesome conflicts in dates in social functions during Commencement and for the convenience of all, the University will issue a bulletin of all social affairs to be given at the end of the session. All fraternities and clubs that contemplate giving anything of this sort are requested to communicate with Dean Wilbur and let him know the date of such.

PROF. CARROLL'S TRIP.

Professor Mitchell Carroll, head of the Classical Department, has just returned to the University after his month's leave of absence, granted him by the University at the request of the Archeological Institute of America, of which he is one of the national secretaries, that the time might be spent in the organizing of Archeological societies in the leading cities of the Far West. Affiliated societies of the Institute were formed in Salt Lake City, San Francisco, and in the Northwest, with Seattle, Portland, Walla Walla, and other centers. Professor Carroll found considerable interest in the West in the developments of the George Washington University, especially among the alumni and the ladies associated with the George Washington Memorial Association.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE.

Wednesday night the Woman's League held another of its delightful socials in the College Library. A guessing contest in the form of a "Love Story" was the order of the evening, in which a number of showing their familiarity with this the Co-Eds had an opportunity of subject. Miss Bodner proved herself the best informed, in token of which she carried off the prize. After refreshments had been served dancing was indulged in.

DENTAL.

The faculty sick list grows as examinations come on and perhaps—but no! Musn't be uncharitable; so we hope they will speedily recover, and be restored to their usual good state of health by the time examinations come on.

Dr. Hagan, professor of applied therapeutics, has been incapacitated for several weeks from nervous breakdown from overwork, and his physician has advised him to take a rest.

Dr. Henry C. Thompson, professor of operative dentistry, while alighting from a car recently, tore one of the muscular attachments of his leg in a painful manner, and, while he pluckily upheld his reputation for promptness by coming to his next lecture, the effort was too much for him and on Saturday he was unable to be with his class.

Both professors have the deep sympathy of all their students.

Examinations have not yet been scheduled, but it is believed that they will be postponed to as remote a date as possible, so as to give the men ample time to "bone."

The Junior men are busy making crown and bridge work.

The Senior Class is wedded to another swage plate; anyone saying "swage plate" to a senior after he has graduated, had better wear his armor, for there will surely be trouble.

Dr. A. B. Crane, an alumnus of U. of P. dental school, practicing in this city, has started a subscription list for the relief of his brother Psi Omegas in the two chapters of that fraternity which are located in San Francisco. The Western Union people got a message through for Doctor Crane to a dentist of Oakland, and returns are hourly expected as to condition of things amongst the dental men of the unfortunate city. Doctor Crane has the hearty support of the local chapter.

PSI OMEGA.

Three men, Messrs Hildreth, Murdock, and Young were butted into Psi Omega by the fraternal goat Saturday night. All are doing well.

FRESHMAN PHARMACISTS DEFEAT SENIORS.

A large crowd Saturday saw the Freshmen of the Pharmacy department defeat the Seniors, winning the class championship without a defeat. The battery work of the victorious team was too much for the older students, and their general infield work was at times brilliant. Deming on first, Pozen on second, Salb on third, and Floyd at short took everything coming their way, Deming and Salb getting two and three hits respectfully. For the Seniors the best stick work was done by Linton, Kem and Sachs. Marr's work on second was unusually fine.

THE MALL.

This is the last notice to those who expect to procure copies of The Mall. The book will be out about the middle of May and the price, $2.00, must be paid when the book is received. A small number in excess of the number subscribed for will be printed. Subscribers will be supplied first and then what is left will be sold to others. If any fail to get copies because of the exhaustion of the number, it will not be because of lack of notice. Your name on a piece of paper, dropped into one of THE HATCHET boxes, will insure the receipt of a book.

All class editors are requested to complete their collections at once and remit to E. C. Wilson. All fraternities and clubs are also requested to send in the assessment for having cuts made. Address, George Washington University or Patent Office.

Andrew L. Smith, ex-fullback on University of Pennsylvania and formerly of Penn State, has commenced libel suit against the editor of McClure's magazine for statements made in that magazine last summer concerning him.—Ex.

MEDICAL

The Passing of the Ki Yis.

When a person shuffles off his "mortal coil" his friends and enemies alike speak well of him whether they mean what they say or not. We know of one case, however, of a real "bad man" in the wilds of Nebraska who was so disliked by all who knew him that when he died and the neighbors came to sympathize with the family not one had the nerve to say a word of praise until finally one good hearted but thoughtless fellow stood viewing the cold form and, thinking that he must say something, blurted out: "He's a nice quiet corpse anyway."

So we feel as we must say something on the passing out of the Ki Yi Class, and as we are inclined to be truthful in what we write, at least, will use the words of the Nebraskan—"He's a nice quiet corpse anyway."

But, to be serious, the Ki Yi Class has done much that is deserving of praise.

It initiated "College Spirit" in the Medical School, which rapidly spread to the other departments of the university and made Ki Yi known by all persons in university life. During the first and second years the members of that class composed a large part of both the baseball and football teams.

The members of the class have held many University offices: Laughlin and Heflebower, respectively, were Managers of the Football Team; Stevenson, Captain, and Sutton, Manager of the Baseball Team; Stanley, Vice-President of the Athletic Association; Tasker, Medical Editor of the "Hatchet;" and Moore is now President of the Association of Class Presidents.

The motto of the class is "Don't start anything you can't finish," and that was one of the chief characteristics of the Ki Yi class. They never did things by halves. Theirs was always a finished article.

They have finished the last lecture of the long course of four years and have done a mighty work. One has to take a course in Medicine to appreciate just what they have done. No man without a proper amount of stiffness in his vertebrae can win a degree of Doctor of Medicine, and we congratulate the Ki Yi's, one and all, on their success and wish them a very happy, healthful and profitable life in the practice of the most noble profession known to man.

Yes it is true. Barnesby has removed the "brush." He didn't do it as a matter of choice, but someone told him that Professor Ruffin does not approve of the bewhiskered doctor and as W. R. thinks he is a little shy on Practice there was no alternative.

The Ki Yis have had their last lecture. Wonder what they will do between now and the night of graduating? Address replies to Medical Editor, The Hatchet.

SOPHOMORE.

We understand that, in answer to a question, our Mr. Thompson informed Dr. Riggles that the liver weighed fifteen pounds. It has been said that medical students have every disease they study about, but who would think L. R. T. would have a hypertrophied liver on account of studying cirrhosis? Let's see! Didn't Dr. Carroll say enlarged livers were sometimes caused by the injection of large amounts of alcohol? We sincerely trust this is not the case with Mr. Thompson.

One of our boys, Mr. C. Solomon Lawrence, had a very narrow escape from a horrible death. We certainly are glad to have him spared to us. It seems he was in San Francisco three years ago.

We are glad to note the return of Mr. Smith who has recently been sick. That lip of his isn't the seat of cloudy swelling—it's merely a moustache.

The Sophomore class is doing a great deal of hard boning for the Pathology examination which comes off May 5.

Mr. Avery and Mr. Wheeler took dinner with Mr. C. S. Lawrence recently and the boys spent a good share of the day in quizzing on Pathology and identifying slides. After considerable work of this kind they adjourned to one of the boat houses in Georgetown, where they ventured forth on the billowy main in Avery's canoe, "Lella."

Everything went off with great eclat. Mr. Avery was dressed very nicely with his red whiskers newly clipped. Mr. Lawrence wore white and carved the turkey, which he did very scientifically indeed. C. S. says the bird had seen many a Xmas, but it sure was good.

The party broke up with the best of wishes to depart to their respective homes, one of them with a feverish haste to commit his thoughts to paper to be published in The Hatchet. Selah!

ARCHITECTURAL.

Two very interesting lectures have been enjoyed by the club recently. Professor A. B. Bibb, of the faculty and Mr. L. A. Simon, chief of the supervising architect's office of the Treasury Department.

Mr. Bibb's subject was "The Gardens and Grounds of Mount Vernon," and in interest of treatment and breadth of view it was particularly interesting. The illustrations were from original photographs. Several interesting old prints were also reproduced showing Washington's original plans for the development of house and grounds.

On Friday, April 20 Mr. Simon addressed the club on "Modern Office Practice." He presented the different phases of the architect's profession as comprised in sketches, working drawings and specifications, and showed the necessity for logical judgment in the consideration of every architectural problem. After the lecture a short business meeting was held to consider plans for the school exhibit.

It is of interest to note that the freshmen of late have not been so warm as usual. The other day, in order to heat the building they tore it down and shoved it in the furnace. All caused by lack of fuel.

UNIVERSITY CONGRESS.

The Congress last week assembled in regular session with Mr. Barrett of the District presiding.

Mr. Edmunds of Mississippi acting as secretary.

The "General Appropriation" was discussed. This bill allowed great latitude of discussion, centered on the two great political parties of the day and their special differences in regard to public policies.

The gentleman from Illinois simply flayed the Democratic party, and took his seat amid most vociferous applause.

The gentleman from Tennessee at once took the floor and in a spirited and fluent manner spoke in opposition to the speech just delivered.

The gentleman from Utah took up the political issues in a systematic manner and drove home with sledge-hammer strokes every point. This is the gentleman's customary manner of handling his subjects.

The gentleman from Georgia took us on a trip to the Philippines and then round the globe, to almost every known country, using every move to gouge the members of the opposition.

Mr. Ramsay opened his speech with a story which set the house roaring, and then followed with an able discussion.

The gentleman from Virginia closed the argument for the democratic side. He summed up the arguments for his side in his accustomed able and eloquent manner, and his remarks were received with the greatest enthusiasm. He believed that the man with the "muck-rake" was doing a great service to the country in that his frequent stirring up of corruption ultimately resulted in its destruction.

The bill for discussion Saturday, April 21, is House Bill No. 49, as follows:

Be it enacted by University Congress in regular session assembled, That from and after the passage of this Act no agreement or combination of two or more persons to do or to procure to be done any act in furtherance of any trade dispute between employers and employees shall be deemed criminal, nor shall the persons engaged therein be indictable or punishable for conspiracy, if such act-committed by one person would not be punishable as a crime, nor shall any restraining order be issued in relation thereto.

NOTICE.

The Congress will continue during the summer. Further announcements will be made. All students and alumni are eligible.

PI BETA PHI.

The Columbia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity gave its annual spring dance at the Washington clubhouse on 17th and I streets, Monday evening of last week. Among those present were the active chapter and their friends, including several of the alumnae members and Miss Irene Fenton, a visiting Pi Beta Phi from Maryland Alpha of Baltimore. Mrs. Vance, Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Taylor acted as chaperons. The music was perfect, the rooms large and commodious and the dance was in every respect one of the most enjoyable and successful ever given by the Fraternity.

THE MEDIC'S COMMANDMENTS.

1. Thou shall have no side lines, but shalt stick to Medicine.
2. Thou shalt not take the names of tardy professors and absent quizmasters in vain.
3. Make no engagement for Sunday afternoon, but keep the whole day open for clinics.
4. Honor thy Dean.
5. Thou shalt not kill time by "cutting" classes to hike off to the skating rink.
6. Thou shalt not make eyes at the Co-Eds.
7. Thou shalt not steal a look at your pony during quiz or in final exams.—you might get caught.
8. Thou shalt not go "bug-house" over bacteriology.
9. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's "College Widow."
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's foxy clothes, nor his social position, nor his meerschaum pipe, nor anything that is his, for if thou art a wise guy in due season thou shalt have all these and more.

ENOSINIAN DEBATING SOCIETY.

Miss Ridout and Mr. Sealer on the affirmative and Mr. Van Vleck and Miss Moyer on the negative, debated the question "Resolved that high license is preferable to prohibition" before a full attendance of the Enosinian Society, Friday evening, April 20. The debate was hard fought, but after long consideration the judges decided, not unanimously in favor of the negative. On the merits of the arguments as presented the vote of the society was a tie but on the merits of the question, the decision was overwhelmingly for the affirmative.

Miss Corson read the current number of "The Bee" while Mr. Block, after an exciting effort on the part of some of the members to exhibit their knowledge of parliamentary law, was allowed the reader his criticism. Mr. Gates gave the extemporaneous speech with the subject "Our Negro Brother as a Debater."

After long deliberation it was decided that in the coming Needham-Enosinian Debate on May 1, 1906, twelve minutes should be allowed for each of the main speeches with six minutes for each side in rebuttal.

An abundant supply of excellent fudge gave an added delight to the evenings proceedings.

Mr. George F. Tibbits, Y. M. C. A. Inter-state Secretary for Maryland, Virginia and the District addressed the Y. M. C. A. club of Columbia College. In the course of a highly interesting talk he pointed out two essentials for success; a vision of things to be done and a stick-to-it-iveness in accomplishing that vision. "To every man, at some time in his life" he said, "comes this vision, but we must look for it and be ready to receive it when it comes."

We know we have negatives of you in class, fraternity and individual why not take advantage of the students rates.

States demand that our tariff policy be revised on the basis of a tariff for revenue only."

NEWS OF OTHER COLLEGES.

Columbia is to have an athletic field that will be the largest and the most magnificent in the world. It is to be built right at the gates of the university and is to entail an expenditure of $1,000,000 or more to erect. The ground on which it is to be built does not exist, but is to be reclaimed from the Hudson River. A retaining wall is to be built at the extreme limit permitted by the United States government, and the enclosure thus created will be filled in. On this will be erected three athletic fields, one for the use of the Columbia University, and two on either side of this, north and south, for the use of school boys in the Public Schools Athletic League and for a public playground. On the roof of the stands to surround Columbia's field will be erected recreation piers for the public.

Robert Francis Harper, brother of the late President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, has been appointed by the trustees of the university as acting head of the department of Semitic languages and literature, left vacant by the death of President Harper.

Foster Rockwell, of Portland, Ore., a Yale senior, has been selected for the position of field coach of the Yale football eleven next year. Captain Tom Shevlin, of last year's eleven, was unable to accept the position. Rockwell was quarterback on the eleven for four years.

The senate of the University of Chicago adopted the football rules framed by the recent conference of the Big Nine Colleges at the Chicago Beach Hotel. The action was unanimous and although this is the first of the nine colleges to act officially on the changes, it is expected that all the others will approve them within a few weeks.

Columbia University has received a gift of $150,000 from Mary H. Williamson of New York. It is understood that the gift was made as a result of abolishing football at Columbia.

President Roosevelt is a member of the committee which is to select the college athletes who represent the United States at the Olympic games at Athens, April 22-May 2.

The Mertz-tailoring business is striking evidence of what can be accomplished by the combination of energetic enterprise and modern, systematic methods. A business could not grow to such proportions unless there was unusual merit back of it.

The merit of Mertz-tailoring does not lie entirely in small prices. There is merit in the fabrics shown, and there is cumulative merit in the cutting, the making, the fitting and the finishing of every garment turned out.

Here's a striking example of the special values Mertz offers.
